had many dealings with her in regards to buying horses and selling her pigs and carcasses of horses which he used for experimenting purposes. That when the Institute moved in 1916 he sold her a lot of chicken wire and junk which was around the place and ^{he} did not want to move. He said that all her dealings were very fair and square with him and that he always thought her to be a decent sort of person and an excellent judge of horses. She owed him as much as $150. at one time and he always got all the money paid up. She told him that the man living with her is her brother, but he read in the papers that this man is her husband. He also stated that she told him that she spent part of her life in the circus as a bare back rider of horses. Dr. Little stated that she is an interesting person to talk with and is a shrewd business woman. He further stated that she had an old man about the place and a boy about 11 years of age. Dr. Little stated that the man she called her brother had worked for him doing farm work at different times, and for his salary Mrs. Gibson would make bargains with him and take pigs or an old horse. Before leaving, Dr. Little gave me the name of Joe Roach of Middle Bush who was a blacksmith and suggested that I see him as he knows Mrs. Gibson well and might have some information regarding her, and to tell him that he (Dr. Little) sent me. Operative then concluded the interview and returned to New Brunswick.
